

BUSINESS RESILIENCE COACHING

Have an idea for how to use technology to improve your operations, but you're not sure how to make it happen?

Curious how marketing can take your business to the next level?

Thinking about your business' transition to the next generation of leadership?

Apply for Business Resilience Coaching with local advisors!

Customized Coaching

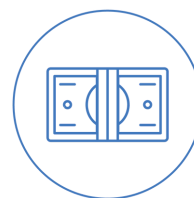

You'll work with a local advisor 1-on-1 or in small group trainings to assess your organization's current plans and operations.

(point of sale system, book keeping system, web presence, social media channels, transition plans, etc.)

Ideas for Improvement

Local advisors will help you identify where you are at and what improvements you'd like to make to reach your goals.

'Make It Happen' Grant

Organizations can apply for matching grants up to $2,000 to implement ideas identified during coaching sessions.

Interested businesses and non-profits must complete an application at
